Let Your Hearts Be Filled to Overflowing This Holiday Season

The holiday whirl approaches! While we enjoy anticipating the special gatherings and parties, if you're like me, you're also anticipating that mountain of extra tasks piled on your already-full schedule. This year, however, I plan to go far beyond "holiday survival mode." How about you?

My first strategy is to stop, breathe deeply and give thanks for the many blessings I enjoy. Taking a few moments for gratitude each day keeps me in a holiday state of mind.

My second strategy is to get a jump on those looming tasks - especially my gift shopping. Knowing you face the same challenge, this issue is filled with wonderful gift ideas for family, friends, co-workers, students, holiday hosts - even pets. You'll find gifts of romance, appreciation and encouragement, each selected from Young Living products - the "gourmet" of essential oils.

Shop with me and complete your gift shopping in minutes rather than in days! Think of all the extra energy we'll have because we haven't fought through crowded malls, jammed parking lots and long checkout lines.

Finally, let's savor the great pleasure of giving our heartfelt gifts of good health. Blessings of the season to you and yours.

Business Gifts

This year, there is no need to spend one minute fretting about what to give a co-worker, boss or Young Living team member. Our gift idea combines a unique writing pen with a stellar essential oil blend to express your appreciation perfectly every time it's used.
